

DIGITAL POSTER

A Terminology Database Containing NATO Terms and – if possible – their Dutch Equivalentents.

In 2022 I started building a new termbase.

Aim: To list defence terms in one overview, containing terms from reliable sources, with as many Dutch equivalentents as possible, to be available for all colleagues of the NL Ministry of Defence.

The PowerPoint slide shows a screenshot of an entry with terms in English (EN), Dutch (NL), French (FR), an abbreviation (AK; this one based on the English term) and a symbol.

Bottom left: a screenshot of the statistics.

The orange fields on the left include some background information on the name, the old situation, tool, languages, sources and content.

The orange fields on the right provide information about the data categories (the fields within an entry).

This year I will 'publish' the termbase.
