Summary:

The aim of the workshop is to guide the participants through a 7-step process of developing the terminology standardization system in the military environment: from identifying the needs, through the design of the system, up to its final product - the standardized terminology. Particular focus is dedicated to terminology standards, forms of organization, methods of work (e.g. collaboration of linguists/terminologists and subject-matter experts), and use of standardized terminology. The theoretical aspects, combined with practical examples and experience of Slovenia's terminology standardization, help the participants explore options that will meet the specific requirements of terminology standardization in their military organizations.
