How is that possible?

“No two brains
are the same.”

David Rock

What does it mean?

INDIVIDUALIZATION

How do teachers interpret it?

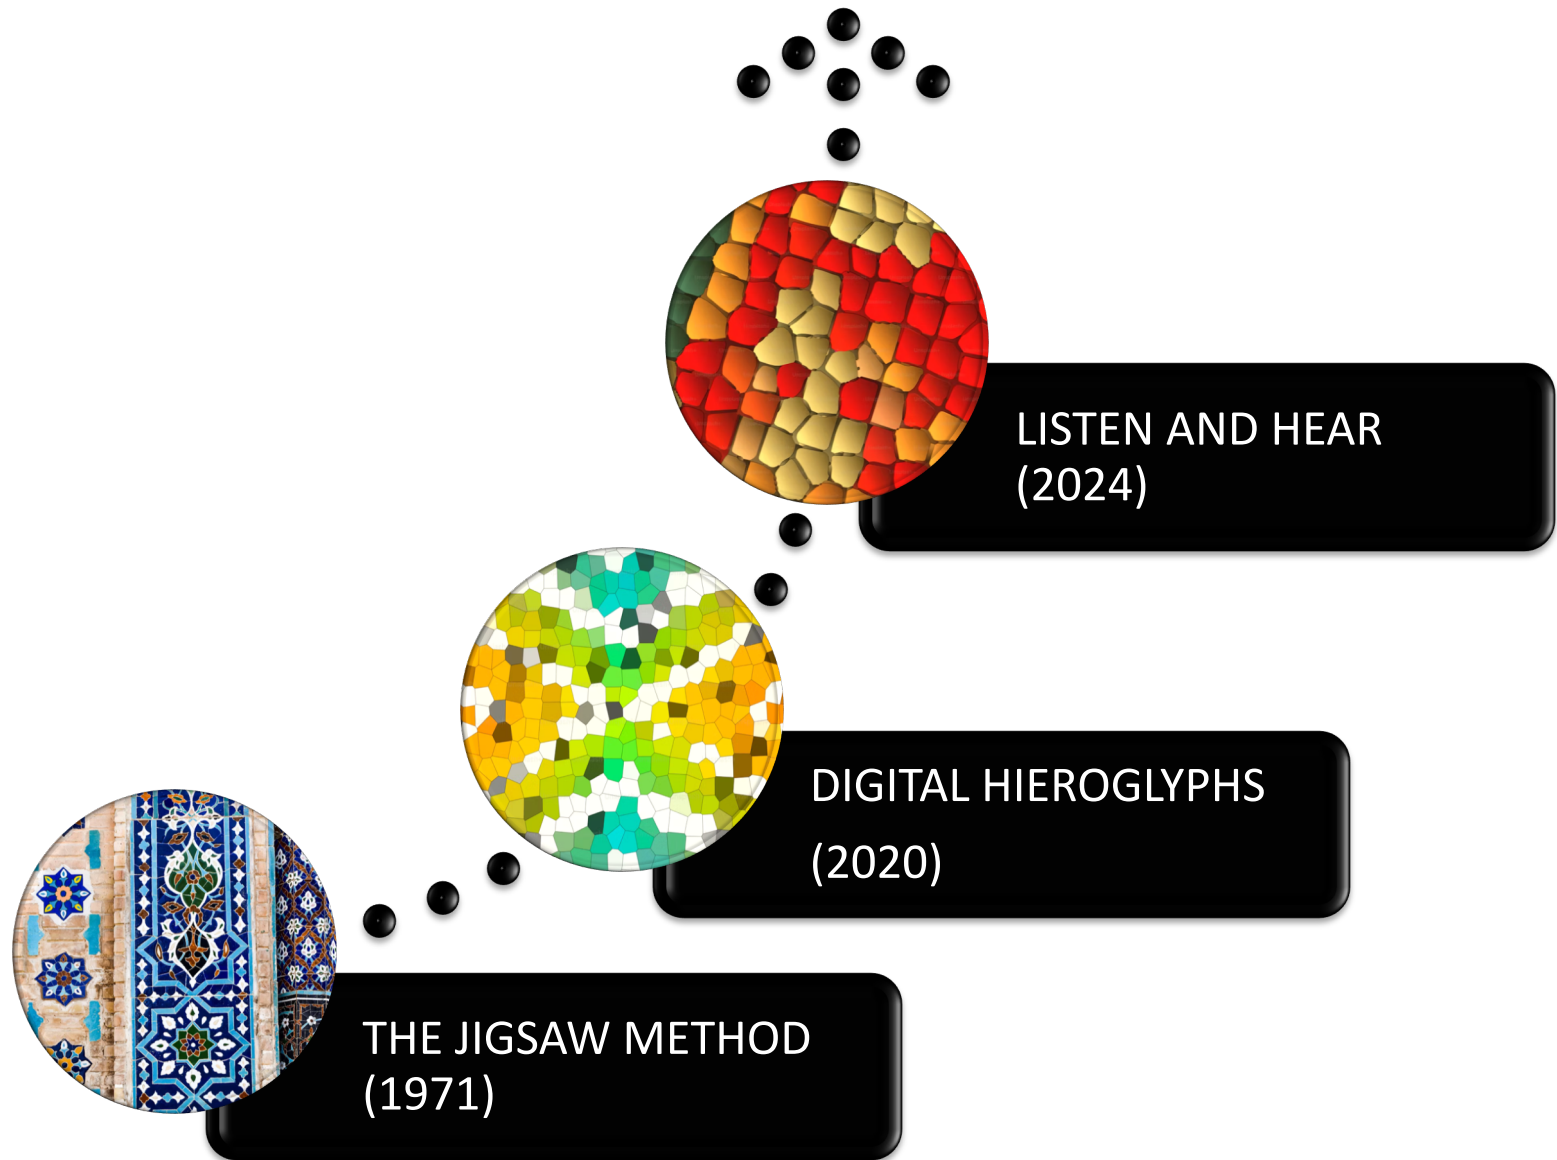

"I believe in the power of tailored instruction. Like a tailor with a needle and thread, I adjust my teaching methods to suit each student's needs."

"I'm like a detective, always snooping for clues on how to make learning click for each student."

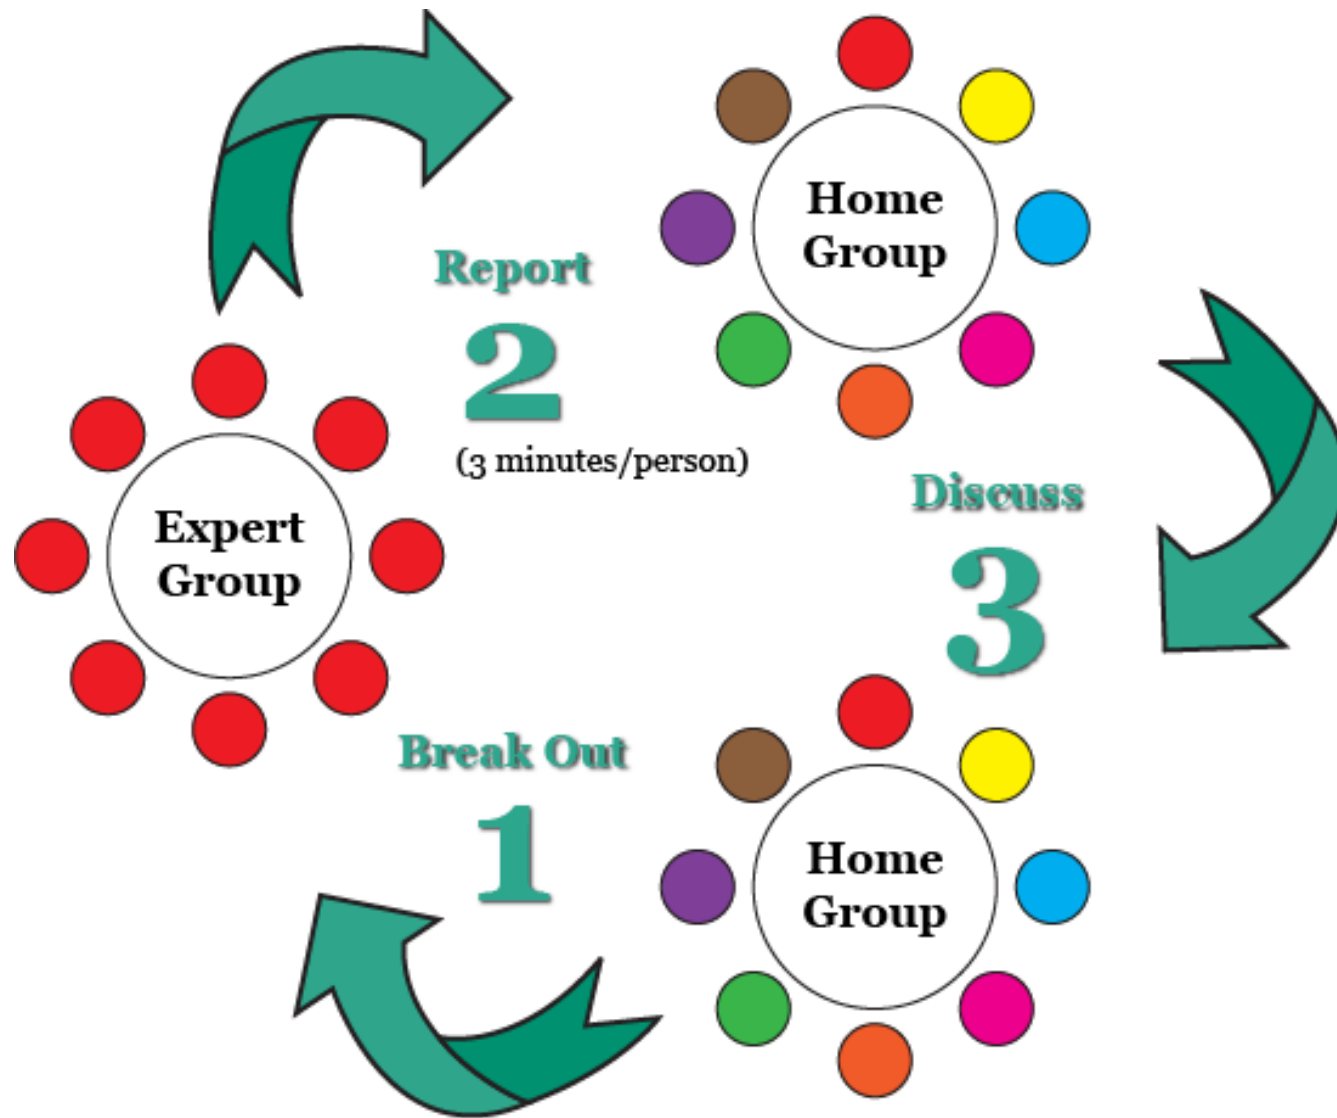

"My students are the drivers of their own educational journey, and technology is the vehicle that propels them forward."

"I'm the matchmaker of learning, pairing each student with the perfect lesson to make sparks fly."
